

New-York

VOL. XI. NO. 12,386.

SOLID FOR GARFIELD.

OHIO AND INDIANA AGAINST A CHANGE.
REPUBLICAN MAJORITY IN OHIO 25,000, IN IN-DIANA POSSIBLY 1,000.

GARFIELD'S OWN STATE GIVES HIM FROM 15,000 TO 25,000 MAJORITY—INDIANA IN DOUBT, BUT
CLAIMED BY THE REPUBLICANS—GAINS ON CON-GRESSMEN.

The October verdict is overwhelmingly in favor of the Republican party, and against a "change," Ohio. Garfield's own State, comes up to his support with a majority which is not likely to fall below 15,000, and may reach 25,000. The latest dispatches place it as high as 27,000. The Republicans have elected surely 13 of the 20 Congressmen, and possibly 15. The present delegation stands nine Republicans and eleven Democrats.

The news from Indiana is less definite than that from Ohio, but it is definite enough to show a disastrous Democratic defeat. The Republicans are confident that they will have a majority of 1,000 for their candidate for Governor. Anything which keeps the Democratic majority below 5,000 is a Republican victory.

There are no returns from West Virginia which give any indication of the general result. The same reports of Republican gains, however, come from there, as well as from Ohio and Indiana.

OHIO.

PROMABLY 20,000 REPUBLICAN MAJORITY.
THREE REPUBLICAN CONGRESSMEN UNDOUBT-EDLY ELECTED—REPUBLICAN GAINS IN VARIOUS TOWNSHIPS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

COLUMBUS, Oct. 12—10:40 p. m.—The net Republican gain is at 10:20 p. m. expected 2,000, and if the gains increase proportionately throughout the State the Republican majority will not be less than 20,000. Butterworth, Young, Rice, Robinson, McClure and Townsend, three of whom were considered doubtful, are elected to Congress, without doubt, giving the Republicans 13 and possibly 14 out of the 20 Congressmen.

In Elvira, Lorain County, the Republican gain is 57; in Union Township, Madison County, the Republican gain is 50; in Deerfield Township, the Republican gain is 7. Advances reported up to 9 o'clock show a net Republican gain of fully 1,000. The most of these gains come from Democratic strongholds. Greene County will give a Republican majority of 2,200, Republican gain of 300. Other voting precincts increase the Republican gain 200 more. Returns thus far reported show a Republican gain of over 1,500. Returns from Morgan and Pike Counties show Republican gains of 68. Complete returns from Summit County show a net Republican gain over last year of 235.

MURAT HALSTEAD'S ESTIMATES.

HE CLAIMS A GAIN OF SIX CONGRESSMEN AND A REPUBLICAN MAJORITY OF 23,000 IN THE STATE.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

CINCINNATI, Oct. 12—11:45 p. m.—Murat Halstead claims a gain of six Congressmen in the State, and a Republican majority of 23,000.

CONGRESSMAN YOUNG'S ESTIMATE.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.]

CINCINNATI, Oct. 12—8:40 p. m.—The vote polled today is twenty per cent larger than ever polled before. In the afternoon a number of slight disturbances took place at the polls, but except in one instance the police were able to preserve order. In the Eighth Ward the Republicans asked the police to give them equal chances with the Democrats at the polls. Two men assaulted a policeman and tore his clothes. He called for help and the men were arrested, but the crowd overpowered the police and rescued the men. Further reinforcements of police were called, but by the time they arrived quiet was restored.

At Broadway, Fifth-ave., and Twenty-third-St., The World newspaper had a revolving bullet-proof, with a tamely displayed advertisement and election returns. The police had been called to remove something encouraging to dissipate the remembrance of the Republican demonstration, gathered in front of this bulletin and turned toward it as the Mecca of its hope. Republicans at the Fifth Avenue Hotel amused themselves greatly by watching the performances of this bulletin. At one revolution it showed the figures 1229.

Look at that paper bragging about its circulation," said a spectator.

Another revolution the cheerful announcement was made that sixty Ohio towns had given a Democratic gain of 97. The Democrats tried to cheer, but Republicans cried out in small voices, "thank you, we're not so bad." Again the bulletin went round and there came out the advertisement of an eating-house. The Democrats cheered again. "The poor hungry devils! Why does somebody put a square in a square?" was the comment. Once more the bulletin admits a Republican gain and the Democratic crowd cheers because it must do something of the kind or dissolve. "They evidently cannot read," is the comment this time. So the fun went on until after midnight.

SCENES BEFORE THE TRIBUNE BUILDING.

A keen, chilly wind, carrying with it eddying clouds of dust, swept the streets last evening as the first Tribune bulletins were posted for public information. Printing-houses Square soon filled with interested spectators. Every class of society was represented, from the mechanic in his working clothes to the well-dressed banker or broker. The ready wit of the city, the returns continuing steadily to increase the Republican gain with the exception of those from Hamilton County, where, as shown by all the returns received up to the present time, there was a gain for the Democrats in nearly every precinct. This does not seem to agree with the early reports of Hamilton County, which gave an increased Republican majority.

No definite returns have been received at either Republican or Democratic headquarters, nor by regular returns to the committee of the next congressional delegation from Ohio. The Democratic State Central Committee make no estimate or prediction. Chairman Nash, of the Republican Committee, says it is now likely that the Republican majority on the State ticket will insure the election of thirteen and probably fifteen Republicans.

Before dawn the city the returns continue steadily to increase the Republican gain with the exception of those from Hamilton County, where, as shown by all the returns received up to the present time, there was a gain for the Democrats in nearly every precinct. This does not seem to agree with the early reports of Hamilton County, which gave an increased Republican majority.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Moors have already begun to discuss the harbor administration of Dublin.

A CARD FROM GLENVILLE MURRAY.

LONDON, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

Mr. E. C. Grenville Murray writes to The Daily News from Paris: "I understand that some very serious trials have recently been committed in Belgium and England under my name by a person supposed to have left Antwerp for America last week. I therefore beg to allow me to state that I have not been out of France since 1870, and that I have not been in England since 1870. I am a man of honor, and my name is Murray. I have no desire to expose myself, but I do not want to be compelled to do so."

BALTIMORE, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

Only 3,000 Moormen are now engaged at St. Mary's. The Moormen have already begun to discuss the harbor administration of Dublin.

THE KURUS BURN 170 VILLAGES.

THE KURUS BURN 170 VILLAGES.

The Kurds have fallen back as far as Sogdiana, meeting their hosts over the frontier to Khorasan. They are reported to have destroyed totally or partially 120 Persian villages. The tribes of Northern Azerbaijan are preparing to march against them.

GOLD DISCOVERED.

OTTAWA, Ont., Oct. 12—Gold ore, which yields $12 to the ton, has been discovered near Perth, Lambton County.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

A VAIN BATTLE WITH FATE.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view of expected disturbances.

A man named Horman, a planter of Co. Cork, and another, named Somer, strewed to a neighboring Mohammedan who has been arrested on account of the murder of Lord Mountjoy.

DUBLIN, Tuesday, Oct. 12, 1880.

The Dublin correspondent of The Manchester Guardian says that the army in the west of Ireland is making preparations in view